

Fill in the blank with the term that is described.

- _____ 1. Programs may need to be amended to suit new circumstances such as different hardware or operating system.
- _____ 2. program runs but produces the wrong results
- _____ 3. Checking the software against the original specification to make sure that it make sure that it meets every requirement.
- _____ 4. Part of a program which will return a value.
- _____ 5. The user guide and technical guide which accompanies any software.
- _____ 6. A general purpose high level language.
- _____ 7. Code which is written as a series of sub programs which can be tested independently
- _____ 8. program design is entered as program code into the computer
- _____ 9. Translates source code line at a time everytime the program is run.
- _____ 10. Code which can be edited and changed easily later on because it has been written in a clear and understandable way
- _____ 11. Use English keywords and are designed to solve problems.
- _____ 12. some steps in development process may have to be repeated
- _____ 13. clear, precise definition of the problem
- _____ 14. A detailed description of the program as a structured diagram or pseudocode.
- _____ 15. program meets the problem specification completely
- _____ 16. When you give a variable a new value
- _____ 17. A detailed study of the problem which produces a clear description of it.
- _____ 18. Code written using meaningful variable and procedure names
- _____ 19. A high level language used for business programs.
- _____ 20. a range of test data is entered into the program to make sure the output is as expected